

Is your student on the right path?

ABOUT ME!

I'm a 25+ year homeschool mom of nine children, six of whom have successfully navigated these programs to graduate from high school, community college, and state universities. I've also served as a guidance counselor in a private school, helping students create personalized education plans and gain acceptance into various programs. With experience working in both group co-ops and one-on-one family partnerships, I am passionate about helping families like yours confidently plan for the future.
